

The Bee.
A COMPLETE Job Printing Department
A Specialty made of Fine Grade of Printing
WRITE FOR TERMS.

BANK
MADISONVILLE, KY.
Capital Stock, - - - $50,000.

THE EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES
JANUARY 1, 1892.
ASSETS, - $136,918,518.38.
Liabilities, 4 p.c. 109,095,537.82.
SURPLUS, - $26,262,980.56.

DR. E. S. BAKER & SON,
MADISONVILLE, KY.
Treat all diseases of the Eye, Perform Operations, Insert Artificial Eyes, Etc.

DR. L. H. PAGE,
Contractor and Builder,
Madisonville, Kentucky.

JOHN G. MORTON,
W. H. MOORE, AGENT,
EARLINGTON, KY.

BANKER
MADISONVILLE, KY.

THOS. D. WALKER,
Stoves, + Castings,
Tinware.

THOS. WHITFORD,
Brick-layer and Stone-mason,
EARLINGTON, KENTUCKY.

MADISONVILLE Steam Laundry and Dye Works.
JAS. L. HURCHFIELD, ANGE.

M. McCORD,
Carpenter, Contractor + Builder

PATENTS
J. R. MOORE, Steam Engines

THOS. D. WALKER,
Stoves, + Castings,
Tinware.

THOS. WHITFORD,
Brick-layer and Stone-mason,
EARLINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Church Directory.
MADISONVILLE.

THE COTON BELT ROUTE!
(St. Louis Southern Railway)
TO ARKANSAS AND TEXAS.

THE COTON BELT ROUTE!
(St. Louis Southern Railway)

THE COTON BELT ROUTE!
(St. Louis Southern Railway)

THE COTON BELT ROUTE!
(St. Louis Southern Railway)

THE COTON BELT ROUTE!
(St. Louis Southern Railway)

THE COTON BELT ROUTE!
(St. Louis Southern Railway)

THE COTON BELT ROUTE!
(St. Louis Southern Railway)

THE COTON BELT ROUTE!
(St. Louis Southern Railway)

THE COTON BELT ROUTE!
(St. Louis Southern Railway)

THE COTON BELT ROUTE!
(St. Louis Southern Railway)

THE COTON BELT ROUTE!
(St. Louis Southern Railway)

THE COTON BELT ROUTE!
(St. Louis Southern Railway)

THE COTON BELT ROUTE!
(St. Louis Southern Railway)

POMPEII-MADISONVILLE.
SOME REALISTIC SCENES.

POMPEII-MADISONVILLE.
SOME REALISTIC SCENES.

POMPEII-MADISONVILLE.
SOME REALISTIC SCENES.

POMPEII-MADISONVILLE.
SOME REALISTIC SCENES.

POMPEII-MADISONVILLE.
SOME REALISTIC SCENES.

POMPEII-MADISONVILLE.
SOME REALISTIC SCENES.

POMPEII-MADISONVILLE.
SOME REALISTIC SCENES.

POMPEII-MADISONVILLE.
SOME REALISTIC SCENES.

POMPEII-MADISONVILLE.
SOME REALISTIC SCENES.

POMPEII-MADISONVILLE.
SOME REALISTIC SCENES.

POMPEII-MADISONVILLE.
SOME REALISTIC SCENES.

POMPEII-MADISONVILLE.
SOME REALISTIC SCENES.

POMPEII-MADISONVILLE.
SOME REALISTIC SCENES.

POMPEII-MADISONVILLE.
SOME REALISTIC SCENES.

A GREAT COMBINATION.
Kentucky Coal and Northwestern Iron.

A GREAT COMBINATION.
Kentucky Coal and Northwestern Iron.

A GREAT COMBINATION.
Kentucky Coal and Northwestern Iron.

A GREAT COMBINATION.
Kentucky Coal and Northwestern Iron.

A GREAT COMBINATION.
Kentucky Coal and Northwestern Iron.

A GREAT COMBINATION.
Kentucky Coal and Northwestern Iron.

A GREAT COMBINATION.
Kentucky Coal and Northwestern Iron.

A GREAT COMBINATION.
Kentucky Coal and Northwestern Iron.

A GREAT COMBINATION.
Kentucky Coal and Northwestern Iron.

A GREAT COMBINATION.
Kentucky Coal and Northwestern Iron.

A GREAT COMBINATION.
Kentucky Coal and Northwestern Iron.

A GREAT COMBINATION.
Kentucky Coal and Northwestern Iron.

A GREAT COMBINATION.
Kentucky Coal and Northwestern Iron.

A GREAT COMBINATION.
Kentucky Coal and Northwestern Iron.

BISMARCK TALKS FREELY.
The PRINCE REFERS TWICE TO THAT YOUNG MAN IN BERLIN.

BISMARCK TALKS FREELY.
The PRINCE REFERS TWICE TO THAT YOUNG MAN IN BERLIN.

BISMARCK TALKS FREELY.
The PRINCE REFERS TWICE TO THAT YOUNG MAN IN BERLIN.

BISMARCK TALKS FREELY.
The PRINCE REFERS TWICE TO THAT YOUNG MAN IN BERLIN.

BISMARCK TALKS FREELY.
The PRINCE REFERS TWICE TO THAT YOUNG MAN IN BERLIN.

BISMARCK TALKS FREELY.
The PRINCE REFERS TWICE TO THAT YOUNG MAN IN BERLIN.

BISMARCK TALKS FREELY.
The PRINCE REFERS TWICE TO THAT YOUNG MAN IN BERLIN.

BISMARCK TALKS FREELY.
The PRINCE REFERS TWICE TO THAT YOUNG MAN IN BERLIN.

BISMARCK TALKS FREELY.
The PRINCE REFERS TWICE TO THAT YOUNG MAN IN BERLIN.

BISMARCK TALKS FREELY.
The PRINCE REFERS TWICE TO THAT YOUNG MAN IN BERLIN.

BISMARCK TALKS FREELY.
The PRINCE REFERS TWICE TO THAT YOUNG MAN IN BERLIN.

BISMARCK TALKS FREELY.
The PRINCE REFERS TWICE TO THAT YOUNG MAN IN BERLIN.

BISMARCK TALKS FREELY.
The PRINCE REFERS TWICE TO THAT YOUNG MAN IN BERLIN.

BISMARCK TALKS FREELY.
The PRINCE REFERS TWICE TO THAT YOUNG MAN IN BERLIN.

On general principles I may say I love the German Empire and will do everything in my power to uphold it; but I am no admirer of Count Caprivi.

On general principles I may say I love the German Empire and will do everything in my power to uphold it; but I am no admirer of Count Caprivi.

On general principles I may say I love the German Empire and will do everything in my power to uphold it; but I am no admirer of Count Caprivi.

On general principles I may say I love the German Empire and will do everything in my power to uphold it; but I am no admirer of Count Caprivi.

On general principles I may say I love the German Empire and will do everything in my power to uphold it; but I am no admirer of Count Caprivi.

On general principles I may say I love the German Empire and will do everything in my power to uphold it; but I am no admirer of Count Caprivi.

On general principles I may say I love the German Empire and will do everything in my power to uphold it; but I am no admirer of Count Caprivi.

On general principles I may say I love the German Empire and will do everything in my power to uphold it; but I am no admirer of Count Caprivi.

On general principles I may say I love the German Empire and will do everything in my power to uphold it; but I am no admirer of Count Caprivi.

On general principles I may say I love the German Empire and will do everything in my power to uphold it; but I am no admirer of Count Caprivi.

On general principles I may say I love the German Empire and will do everything in my power to uphold it; but I am no admirer of Count Caprivi.

On general principles I may say I love the German Empire and will do everything in my power to uphold it; but I am no admirer of Count Caprivi.

On general principles I may say I love the German Empire and will do everything in my power to uphold it; but I am no admirer of Count Caprivi.

On general principles I may say I love the German Empire and will do everything in my power to uphold it; but I am no admirer of Count Caprivi.

The Bee

BEES PUBLISHING COMPANY.
1000 Bee Building, East Lexington, Ky.
Subscription Rates

One Year, twelve in advance $1.00
Six Months, six in advance .60
Three Months, three in advance .30
Single Copies, 10 cents
Address for advertising: Bee Building, Lexington, Ky.

RATES OF ADVERTISING
One square first insertion 10 cents
Each subsequent insertion 5 cents
Special rates for long term contracts
Large notices and display advertising Special rates for advertising in the country and in the city
Advertisements in the Bee must be paid for in advance
Advertisements in the Bee must
be paid for in advance

THOS. N. BLACK, Editor
W. R. PRATT, Business Manager
THURSDAY, JULY 21, 1892

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN TICKET
FOR PRESIDENT
BENJAMIN HARRISON,
OF Indiana.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT
WHITELAW REID,
OF New York.

ANNOUNCEMENT
For Circuit Judge

To the voters of the Fourth Judicial District, comprising the counties of Caldwell, Livingston, Crittenden and Hopkins, I hereby make the announcement that I am a candidate for the office of Circuit Judge of said district, subject to the action of the Democratic party.
T. D. NEW
Macon, Crittenden Co., July 6, 1892

Ten Democrats of Kansas have struck their colors and are marching under the banner of the People's Party.

GUY WEAVER has been prominently identified with all the political parties of the last three decades and has always been a conspicuous leader.

HON. A. E. STEVENSON, Democratic candidate for Vice President, is the president of the McLean County Coal Company, which is operated with non-union labor.

The legislature has exhausted the funds in the State Treasury, but it still holds the fort at our old state capital. Even this July weather fails to drive it home.

Ten elections in Great Britain have resulted in the triumph of the Liberal party. Mr. Gladstone has become premier and have the support of a working majority in parliament.

Tim People's Party are on the alert and making things quite lively in Georgia. They are putting candidates in the field for congress and giving the Democrats a wrestle all along the line.

HENRY M. STANLEY is not being idolized by the English people. Another trip to Africa will probably come as a relief to him. He it seems, has lost his old-time popularity with the world at large.

Ten Kentucky representatives in Congress were divided on the Stewart fur coinage bill. Messrs. Cantrich, Breckenridge and Dickson, democrats, and Wilson, republican, voted against its passage. All the others voted for it.

JULIO L. P. LEROY, of Owensboro, has become a candidate for Congress in this district, subject to the action of the Democratic convention. He has been judge of the judicial circuit for twelve years and stands very high as a lawyer and a citizen.

It is claimed that Finkerton, the leader of the great association bearing his name, is a zealous supporter of Mr. Cleveland. Mr. Carnegie, the largest stockholder of the Carnegie Company, is a Republican, while Mr. Frick, the manager and executive head of this giant organization is a Democrat.

J. F. MURPHY, governor, a member of the Hopkins county bar, is making an active canvass for the Democratic nomination for commonwealth attorney of this district. Mr. Gordon is a promising young man and is in every way qualified to creditably fill the responsible office to which he aspires.

We presume a call will shortly be made for a District Convention, to nominate a candidate for Congress in this district. The convention should be held at Earlington, and a strong candidate live in the field.

There is a good prospect of Republican success, and in every effort must be made to win. In the event of President Harrison's election—which appears quite probable—the Republican candidate will be very potent in the disliking of public places. It is therefore very important to have a man of ability and character to represent out came in the campaign.

It is a late issue of the Wilson County Citizen, published at Freedom, Kansas, we notice an account of the death of Richard L. Peyton, a former citizen of this county, but who settled in Kansas many years ago. Mr. Peyton had taken up some land in Oklahoma and a controversy arose with a man named Wilson, who had been a citizen of the state. The matter was submitted to the land office at Oklahoma City and decision given in favor of Peyton's claim. This defeat stirred the malice and revenge in Wilson's heart, and without a justifiable excuse, he took Mr. Peyton's life. The murder was promptly arrested and committed to jail. Richard L. Peyton was a quiet and exemplary man. He was raised in the Nolo district, where he was always held in high esteem, and the news of his death has caused deep regret.

There has been a complete Democratic flop on the silver question. In the Fifty first Congress, when a test vote was taken, of the 153 Democratic members of the House of Representatives, all but twenty voted for the question of silver. The Republicans then had a small majority, and the champions of free coinage claimed that the measure would surely become a law when the Democratic party secured the ascendancy. In the Fifty-second Congress, the Democrats have a decided majority over the Republicans, Independents and the Farmer's Alliance combined, but they refuse to make good the pledges of their leaders.

Declarations to advance the silver bill and give it a hearing at the present session, has been defeated by a decided majority. The bill will take its place at the foot of the calendar and there is no probability of reaching it during the present Congress.

Our pension list has assumed vast proportions, but the resources of our great country are equal to the strain. Superintendent Porter, of the Census Bureau, delivered a recent address, in which he presented some interesting facts.

The total amount in pensions paid since 1867 is $1,300,000,000. The principal of the public debt into account, the government has paid altogether about six thousand million dollars. Nevertheless our country has prospered and grown.

The first movement of the value of property. The entire value of property in 1860, was $16,000,000,000, and in 1890 it had reached $63,000,000,000. Our factories produce a value of $8,000,000,000 per year, and our mines turn out $6,000,000,000 per year. The assets of our railroads amounted to near $10,000,000,000, our agricultural products reach $6,000,000,000 annually, and the volume of our exports and imports has increased 125 per cent.

The gratitude of the nation to its leaders has never been equalled, but no country has been so greatly benefited by the services and sacrifices of its soldiers.

HOMESTEAD AND ITS HOME-STEADS
Representative Oates, of Alabama, is a typical free trade Southern Democrat, but gentleman of his impulsive temperament sometimes tell truths that are not polite. Some party politicians would conceal for fear of helping the enemy. Congressman Oates freely admits that he never saw such high wages paid anywhere for physical labor as are paid at the Homestead mills. Here is his testimony:

"The leaders of the workmen are men of intelligence and capacity, and take the workmen as a body, they are the best set of workmen I have ever come across. The contention is not one between ignorance and power. It is a conflict of strong men, the workmen being keen, intelligent and always wide awake. The man who goes to Homestead with the idea that he is going to find a lot of ragged, half-starved and ignorant strikers will have a great surprise before him. It is a revelation in the way of a community of mystery. The fact is, the thought and action of independence. They have their homes, and the skilled workmen earn from $65 to $75 per month. The laborers get from $3 to $5.50 per day. It is not a poverty stricken community by any means."

How did Mr. Oates come to this conclusion? By personal inspection of Homestead and its homesteads.

If other Democratic politicians were to investigate American industrial communities more, and cultivate honesty enough not to make sweeping assertions about them but what they had studied them at first hand, more of them would open their eyes and their mouths would open their mouths—Philadelphia Press.

POMPEII—MADISONVILLE.

It is a late issue of the Wilson County Citizen, published at Freedom, Kansas, we notice an account of the death of Richard L. Peyton, a former citizen of this county, but who settled in Kansas many years ago. Mr. Peyton had taken up some land in Oklahoma and a controversy arose with a man named Wilson, who had been a citizen of the state. The matter was submitted to the land office at Oklahoma City and decision given in favor of Peyton's claim. This defeat stirred the malice and revenge in Wilson's heart, and without a justifiable excuse, he took Mr. Peyton's life. The murder was promptly arrested and committed to jail. Richard L. Peyton was a quiet and exemplary man. He was raised in the Nolo district, where he was always held in high esteem, and the news of his death has caused deep regret.

There has been a complete Democratic flop on the silver question. In the Fifty first Congress, when a test vote was taken, of the 153 Democratic members of the House of Representatives, all but twenty voted for the question of silver. The Republicans then had a small majority, and the champions of free coinage claimed that the measure would surely become a law when the Democratic party secured the ascendancy. In the Fifty-second Congress, the Democrats have a decided majority over the Republicans, Independents and the Farmer's Alliance combined, but they refuse to make good the pledges of their leaders.

Declarations to advance the silver bill and give it a hearing at the present session, has been defeated by a decided majority. The bill will take its place at the foot of the calendar and there is no probability of reaching it during the present Congress.

Our pension list has assumed vast proportions, but the resources of our great country are equal to the strain. Superintendent Porter, of the Census Bureau, delivered a recent address, in which he presented some interesting facts.

The total amount in pensions paid since 1867 is $1,300,000,000. The principal of the public debt into account, the government has paid altogether about six thousand million dollars. Nevertheless our country has prospered and grown.

The first movement of the value of property. The entire value of property in 1860, was $16,000,000,000, and in 1890 it had reached $63,000,000,000. Our factories produce a value of $8,000,000,000 per year, and our mines turn out $6,000,000,000 per year. The assets of our railroads amounted to near $10,000,000,000, our agricultural products reach $6,000,000,000 annually, and the volume of our exports and imports has increased 125 per cent.

The gratitude of the nation to its leaders has never been equalled, but no country has been so greatly benefited by the services and sacrifices of its soldiers.

HOMESTEAD AND ITS HOME-STEADS
Representative Oates, of Alabama, is a typical free trade Southern Democrat, but gentleman of his impulsive temperament sometimes tell truths that are not polite. Some party politicians would conceal for fear of helping the enemy. Congressman Oates freely admits that he never saw such high wages paid anywhere for physical labor as are paid at the Homestead mills. Here is his testimony:

"The leaders of the workmen are men of intelligence and capacity, and take the workmen as a body, they are the best set of workmen I have ever come across. The contention is not one between ignorance and power. It is a conflict of strong men, the workmen being keen, intelligent and always wide awake. The man who goes to Homestead with the idea that he is going to find a lot of ragged, half-starved and ignorant strikers will have a great surprise before him. It is a revelation in the way of a community of mystery. The fact is, the thought and action of independence. They have their homes, and the skilled workmen earn from $65 to $75 per month. The laborers get from $3 to $5.50 per day. It is not a poverty stricken community by any means."

How did Mr. Oates come to this conclusion? By personal inspection of Homestead and its homesteads.

If other Democratic politicians were to investigate American industrial communities more, and cultivate honesty enough not to make sweeping assertions about them but what they had studied them at first hand, more of them would open their eyes and their mouths would open their mouths—Philadelphia Press.

It is a late issue of the Wilson County Citizen, published at Freedom, Kansas, we notice an account of the death of Richard L. Peyton, a former citizen of this county, but who settled in Kansas many years ago. Mr. Peyton had taken up some land in Oklahoma and a controversy arose with a man named Wilson, who had been a citizen of the state. The matter was submitted to the land office at Oklahoma City and decision given in favor of Peyton's claim. This defeat stirred the malice and revenge in Wilson's heart, and without a justifiable excuse, he took Mr. Peyton's life. The murder was promptly arrested and committed to jail. Richard L. Peyton was a quiet and exemplary man. He was raised in the Nolo district, where he was always held in high esteem, and the news of his death has caused deep regret.

There has been a complete Democratic flop on the silver question. In the Fifty first Congress, when a test vote was taken, of the 153 Democratic members of the House of Representatives, all but twenty voted for the question of silver. The Republicans then had a small majority, and the champions of free coinage claimed that the measure would surely become a law when the Democratic party secured the ascendancy. In the Fifty-second Congress, the Democrats have a decided majority over the Republicans, Independents and the Farmer's Alliance combined, but they refuse to make good the pledges of their leaders.

Declarations to advance the silver bill and give it a hearing at the present session, has been defeated by a decided majority. The bill will take its place at the foot of the calendar and there is no probability of reaching it during the present Congress.

Our pension list has assumed vast proportions, but the resources of our great country are equal to the strain. Superintendent Porter, of the Census Bureau, delivered a recent address, in which he presented some interesting facts.

The total amount in pensions paid since 1867 is $1,300,000,000. The principal of the public debt into account, the government has paid altogether about six thousand million dollars. Nevertheless our country has prospered and grown.

The first movement of the value of property. The entire value of property in 1860, was $16,000,000,000, and in 1890 it had reached $63,000,000,000. Our factories produce a value of $8,000,000,000 per year, and our mines turn out $6,000,000,000 per year. The assets of our railroads amounted to near $10,000,000,000, our agricultural products reach $6,000,000,000 annually, and the volume of our exports and imports has increased 125 per cent.

The gratitude of the nation to its leaders has never been equalled, but no country has been so greatly benefited by the services and sacrifices of its soldiers.

HOMESTEAD AND ITS HOME-STEADS
Representative Oates, of Alabama, is a typical free trade Southern Democrat, but gentleman of his impulsive temperament sometimes tell truths that are not polite. Some party politicians would conceal for fear of helping the enemy. Congressman Oates freely admits that he never saw such high wages paid anywhere for physical labor as are paid at the Homestead mills. Here is his testimony:

"The leaders of the workmen are men of intelligence and capacity, and take the workmen as a body, they are the best set of workmen I have ever come across. The contention is not one between ignorance and power. It is a conflict of strong men, the workmen being keen, intelligent and always wide awake. The man who goes to Homestead with the idea that he is going to find a lot of ragged, half-starved and ignorant strikers will have a great surprise before him. It is a revelation in the way of a community of mystery. The fact is, the thought and action of independence. They have their homes, and the skilled workmen earn from $65 to $75 per month. The laborers get from $3 to $5.50 per day. It is not a poverty stricken community by any means."

How did Mr. Oates come to this conclusion? By personal inspection of Homestead and its homesteads.

If other Democratic politicians were to investigate American industrial communities more, and cultivate honesty enough not to make sweeping assertions about them but what they had studied them at first hand, more of them would open their eyes and their mouths would open their mouths—Philadelphia Press.

It is a late issue of the Wilson County Citizen, published at Freedom, Kansas, we notice an account of the death of Richard L. Peyton, a former citizen of this county, but who settled in Kansas many years ago. Mr. Peyton had taken up some land in Oklahoma and a controversy arose with a man named Wilson, who had been a citizen of the state. The matter was submitted to the land office at Oklahoma City and decision given in favor of Peyton's claim. This defeat stirred the malice and revenge in Wilson's heart, and without a justifiable excuse, he took Mr. Peyton's life. The murder was promptly arrested and committed to jail. Richard L. Peyton was a quiet and exemplary man. He was raised in the Nolo district, where he was always held in high esteem, and the news of his death has caused deep regret.

There has been a complete Democratic flop on the silver question. In the Fifty first Congress, when a test vote was taken, of the 153 Democratic members of the House of Representatives, all but twenty voted for the question of silver. The Republicans then had a small majority, and the champions of free coinage claimed that the measure would surely become a law when the Democratic party secured the ascendancy. In the Fifty-second Congress, the Democrats have a decided majority over the Republicans, Independents and the Farmer's Alliance combined, but they refuse to make good the pledges of their leaders.

Declarations to advance the silver bill and give it a hearing at the present session, has been defeated by a decided majority. The bill will take its place at the foot of the calendar and there is no probability of reaching it during the present Congress.

Our pension list has assumed vast proportions, but the resources of our great country are equal to the strain. Superintendent Porter, of the Census Bureau, delivered a recent address, in which he presented some interesting facts.

The total amount in pensions paid since 1867 is $1,300,000,000. The principal of the public debt into account, the government has paid altogether about six thousand million dollars. Nevertheless our country has prospered and grown.

The first movement of the value of property. The entire value of property in 1860, was $16,000,000,000, and in 1890 it had reached $63,000,000,000. Our factories produce a value of $8,000,000,000 per year, and our mines turn out $6,000,000,000 per year. The assets of our railroads amounted to near $10,000,000,000, our agricultural products reach $6,000,000,000 annually, and the volume of our exports and imports has increased 125 per cent.

The gratitude of the nation to its leaders has never been equalled, but no country has been so greatly benefited by the services and sacrifices of its soldiers.

HOMESTEAD AND ITS HOME-STEADS
Representative Oates, of Alabama, is a typical free trade Southern Democrat, but gentleman of his impulsive temperament sometimes tell truths that are not polite. Some party politicians would conceal for fear of helping the enemy. Congressman Oates freely admits that he never saw such high wages paid anywhere for physical labor as are paid at the Homestead mills. Here is his testimony:

"The leaders of the workmen are men of intelligence and capacity, and take the workmen as a body, they are the best set of workmen I have ever come across. The contention is not one between ignorance and power. It is a conflict of strong men, the workmen being keen, intelligent and always wide awake. The man who goes to Homestead with the idea that he is going to find a lot of ragged, half-starved and ignorant strikers will have a great surprise before him. It is a revelation in the way of a community of mystery. The fact is, the thought and action of independence. They have their homes, and the skilled workmen earn from $65 to $75 per month. The laborers get from $3 to $5.50 per day. It is not a poverty stricken community by any means."

How did Mr. Oates come to this conclusion? By personal inspection of Homestead and its homesteads.

If other Democratic politicians were to investigate American industrial communities more, and cultivate honesty enough not to make sweeping assertions about them but what they had studied them at first hand, more of them would open their eyes and their mouths would open their mouths—Philadelphia Press.

It is a late issue of the Wilson County Citizen, published at Freedom, Kansas, we notice an account of the death of Richard L. Peyton, a former citizen of this county, but who settled in Kansas many years ago. Mr. Peyton had taken up some land in Oklahoma and a controversy arose with a man named Wilson, who had been a citizen of the state. The matter was submitted to the land office at Oklahoma City and decision given in favor of Peyton's claim. This defeat stirred the malice and revenge in Wilson's heart, and without a justifiable excuse, he took Mr. Peyton's life. The murder was promptly arrested and committed to jail. Richard L. Peyton was a quiet and exemplary man. He was raised in the Nolo district, where he was always held in high esteem, and the news of his death has caused deep regret.

There has been a complete Democratic flop on the silver question. In the Fifty first Congress, when a test vote was taken, of the 153 Democratic members of the House of Representatives, all but twenty voted for the question of silver. The Republicans then had a small majority, and the champions of free coinage claimed that the measure would surely become a law when the Democratic party secured the ascendancy. In the Fifty-second Congress, the Democrats have a decided majority over the Republicans, Independents and the Farmer's Alliance combined, but they refuse to make good the pledges of their leaders.

Declarations to advance the silver bill and give it a hearing at the present session, has been defeated by a decided majority. The bill will take its place at the foot of the calendar and there is no probability of reaching it during the present Congress.

Our pension list has assumed vast proportions, but the resources of our great country are equal to the strain. Superintendent Porter, of the Census Bureau, delivered a recent address, in which he presented some interesting facts.

The total amount in pensions paid since 1867 is $1,300,000,000. The principal of the public debt into account, the government has paid altogether about six thousand million dollars. Nevertheless our country has prospered and grown.

The first movement of the value of property. The entire value of property in 1860, was $16,000,000,000, and in 1890 it had reached $63,000,000,000. Our factories produce a value of $8,000,000,000 per year, and our mines turn out $6,000,000,000 per year. The assets of our railroads amounted to near $10,000,000,000, our agricultural products reach $6,000,000,000 annually, and the volume of our exports and imports has increased 125 per cent.

The gratitude of the nation to its leaders has never been equalled, but no country has been so greatly benefited by the services and sacrifices of its soldiers.

HOMESTEAD AND ITS HOME-STEADS
Representative Oates, of Alabama, is a typical free trade Southern Democrat, but gentleman of his impulsive temperament sometimes tell truths that are not polite. Some party politicians would conceal for fear of helping the enemy. Congressman Oates freely admits that he never saw such high wages paid anywhere for physical labor as are paid at the Homestead mills. Here is his testimony:

"The leaders of the workmen are men of intelligence and capacity, and take the workmen as a body, they are the best set of workmen I have ever come across. The contention is not one between ignorance and power. It is a conflict of strong men, the workmen being keen, intelligent and always wide awake. The man who goes to Homestead with the idea that he is going to find a lot of ragged, half-starved and ignorant strikers will have a great surprise before him. It is a revelation in the way of a community of mystery. The fact is, the thought and action of independence. They have their homes, and the skilled workmen earn from $65 to $75 per month. The laborers get from $3 to $5.50 per day. It is not a poverty stricken community by any means."

How did Mr. Oates come to this conclusion? By personal inspection of Homestead and its homesteads.

If other Democratic politicians were to investigate American industrial communities more, and cultivate honesty enough not to make sweeping assertions about them but what they had studied them at first hand, more of them would open their eyes and their mouths would open their mouths—Philadelphia Press.

Advertisements.

L. R. Woolfolk, The ST. BERNARD DRUG STORE
MADISONVILLE, KY.
Books and Stationery
Picture Frames and Wall Paper.
Pianos, Organs
Musical Instruments
Sheet Music, etc.

Patent Medicines and Perfumery.
DRUGGISTS' FANCY AND TOILET ARTICLES.
Hair, Tooth, and Paint Brushes.
Paints and Oils.
Ready Mixed Paints, all colors, in small cans.
PHYSICIANS' PRESCRIPTIONS CAREFULLY COMPOUNDED.
J. K. DAVIS
Livery Stable.

First-Class Turn-Outs at Reasonable Rates.
SPECIAL ATTENTION PAID TO TRAVELING MEN
BY ISAAC DAVIS.
BEN T. ROBINSON,
DRUGGIST,
MORTON'S CORNER,
MADISONVILLE, KY.
Always on hand a full and complete stock of
DRUGS AND MEDICINES
FERTILIZERS AND TOILET ARTICLES
PAINTS AND OILS
And everything else known to the trade
Physicians' Prescriptions Carefully Compounded

PLUCK! GRIT! SAND!
The Pluck to Buy Right.
The Grit to Sell Right.
The Sand to Do Right.
HAVE MADE THE
SUGG & CO. SHOE STORE,
Opposite Court House,
Madisonville, Kentucky.

WEAK, NERVOUS OR IS PAIN
Remember that we have brought
B. F. WRIGHT & CO.'S Stock of
FURNITURE AND Undertaking Supplies
THIS IS
A Golden Opportunity
FOR YOU
We carry a full line of Bedroom Suits,
Parlor Suits,
Soft Lounges,
Tables,
Chairs,
Sofas,
Mattresses,
Wardrobes,
Book Cases,
Etc., etc.
Come and get our prices.
Our Undertaking Department is complete. As nice a line of Caskets,
Coffins,
Linings, and Coffin Hardware
As you can find in any city
Hoping that you will give us a call when you want anything in our line, we are yours,
Respectfully,
C. H. Young & Co.
C. O. OSBORN, Manager,
MADISONVILLE, KENTUCKY

THE NEW WEBSTER
WEBSTER'S
INTERNATIONAL
DICTIONARY
SUCCESSOR OF THE UNABRIDGED
DICTIONARY
A GRAND INVESTMENT
The work of revision completed over a year, this new edition of Webster's being enlarged, and over 80,000
words have been added to the
old edition.
CAREFUL attention to spelling and usage, and the addition of many new words, make this the best
dictionary yet published.
The International Dictionary
is the best
O. & C. MERRILL & CO., Publishers,
Springfield, Mass., U.S.A.

THE NEW WEBSTER
WEBSTER'S
INTERNATIONAL
DICTIONARY
SUCCESSOR OF THE UNABRIDGED
DICTIONARY
A GRAND INVESTMENT
The work of revision completed over
a year, this new edition of Webster's
being enlarged, and over 80,000
words have been added to the
old edition.
CAREFUL attention to spelling and
usage, and the addition of many new words, make this the best
dictionary yet published.
The International Dictionary
is the best
O. & C. MERRILL & CO., Publishers,
Springfield, Mass., U.S.A.

THE NEW WEBSTER
WEBSTER'S
INTERNATIONAL
DICTIONARY
SUCCESSOR OF THE UNABRIDGED
DICTIONARY
A GRAND INVESTMENT
The work of revision completed over
a year, this new edition of Webster's
being enlarged, and over 80,000
words have been added to the
old edition.
CAREFUL attention to spelling and
usage, and the addition of many new words, make this the best
dictionary yet published.
The International Dictionary
is the best
O. & C. MERRILL & CO., Publishers,
Springfield, Mass., U.S.A.

THE NEW WEBSTER
WEBSTER'S
INTERNATIONAL
DICTIONARY
SUCCESSOR OF THE UNABRIDGED
DICTIONARY
A GRAND INVESTMENT
The work of revision completed over
a year, this new edition of Webster's being enlarged, and over 80,000
words have been added to the
old edition.
CAREFUL attention to spelling and
usage, and the addition of many
new words, make this the best
dictionary yet published.
The International Dictionary
is the best
O. & C. MERRILL & CO., Publishers,
Springfield, Mass., U.S.A.

THE NEW WEBSTER
WEBSTER'S
INTERNATIONAL
DICTIONARY
SUCCESSOR OF THE UNABRIDGED
DICTIONARY
A GRAND INVESTMENT
The work of revision completed over
a year, this new edition of Webster's being enlarged, and over 80,000
words have been added to the
old edition.
CAREFUL attention to spelling and
usage, and the addition of many
new words, make this the best
dictionary yet published.
The International Dictionary
is the best
O. & C. MERRILL & CO., Publishers,
Springfield, Mass., U.S.A.

100

